ST. PATRICK'S ENTERTAINMENT

Despite many other attractions in the district on Tuesday night, a large audience greeted the annual entertainment staged in the Columbus hall by the ladies of St. Anne's parish.

A most delightful programme was rendered, including songs, choruses, marches and a three-act farce comedy, entitled "So You're From Missouri."

Principals in the play were: Miss A. Aschacher as Greta, the maid; Mr. J. Lleskovsky as Meadows, the butler; Mr. A. Huchala, as Officer Kane, who liked romance; Miss L. Brunetto as Marion, Herbert's wife; Mr. G. Pire as Herbert Browning; Mr. Jack Tompkins as Dick, Herbert's friend; Miss L. Aschacher as Lisette, who wanted a husband; Mr. John Dobek as Alphonso Brecky, who wrote romantic stories; Miss Lily Marcial as Sarah, Brecky's wife, and Miss Beatrice Trono as Elinor, Dick's fiancée. All characters performed their parts in a manner well above that of the average amateurs.

A group of about thirty little girls staged marches and sang "Killarney" and other songs closely associated with St. Patrick's festivities. The programme closed with the singing of "God Save Ireland" and "God Save The King."

For the benefit of large numbers who were unable to be present on Tuesday night, the programme was repeated Wednesday night, and again a record house greeted the performers.

Arrangements have been made for the appearance of the Blaimore artists at Pincher Creek on the night of Tuesday next, March 24th.

Furniture for the staging here was kindly loaned by Mr. W. L. Evans, of the Blaimore Exchange.

WASTEBASKETS NEEDED

Every newspaper office today needs new equipment in the way of wastebaskets. The increasing demand made for free publicity has grown to such an extent, the baskets are filled to overflowing. These agencies and firms seem to forget that it takes money to operate a newspaper. Much of the matter may be good, but we must consider our readers and give them the news of the district and any information we believe of value to them. All other articles are consigned to the wastebasket.—Ex.

Canada Manufacturers' Ninety-Two Per Cent. of Soap Used

The cost to Canada is more than $9,000,000 a year to keep moderately clean and the women of the country pay two-thirds of that amount for ordinary household or laundry soap, soap flakes, chips and powdered soap, according to information received from the department of trade and commerce in Ottawa. The remainder of the amount is paid out for toilet and cattle soap of which nearly two and a half pounds are used annually for every man, woman and child in the country.

Ninety-two per cent. of the soap that slides ingeniously in bath water, that slips out of the soap dish, that is rubbed behind Johnny's ears and smarts in father's eyes when he shaves, is made in the Dominion, while local manufacturers contribute an even greater percentage of the huge bars that melt in the dishwasher or disappear in the washing machine.

The United States is Canada's best customer for soap while it at the same time supplies Canada with most of its soap imports. Exports to the United States last year totalled $594,926 while imports amounted to $344,980.

if the "Pain" Remedy
You Take Is Safe.

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's
Well-Being to Unknown
Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

Snappy Clothes For Navy

British Admiralty Has Announced Some Radical Changes

Britain's navy is going all dinky. Not satisfied with attractive white shoes and new ties, in addition to the option of cocoa or chocolate instead of rum, Jolly Jack is now to be issued with a sports shirt of the most charming blue rayon.

And this is not all. Pajamas in attractive colors are to be offered in the canteens at $25.00 a pair, made of the best artificial silk. For an extra quarter, the initials "or" the warner can be obtained, also in silk, to be worn on the pocket of the pajamas.

Gone also are the official canvas kit bags and henceforth Jack will be issued with a smart imitation leather suit case.

When ashore, Jack may, if he wishes, discard his bell bottom pants for a smart new rig of navy serge, with white collar and black tie.

These innovations have just been announced from the Admiralty in a document to commanders of the fleet who are asked to co-operate in every possible way in "helping seamen to adapt themselves to new and more attractive clothing."

What Jack will have to say about these silk pajamas if he happens to be suddenly called from his bunk for extra duty on a stormy night in the North Sea remains to be heard, but will hardly be publishable.

JESUS TEACHES TRUE VALUES

Golden text: Seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Matthew 6:33.

Lesson: Luke 12.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 23.

Explanations and Comments

Warnings Against Worry, Luke 12:22-34. Turning to his disciples, Jesus said, "Therefore I say unto you." He had just been telling the parable of "The Rich Fool," as we call it, which was about one who laid up treasures for himself, and was not rich toward God, verse 21. He followed this parable with its warning against covetousness, with his "There I say unto you, be not anxious" for this and that. Matthew records in the Sermon on the Mount the words that follow:

Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. For the life is more than food, and the body than the raiment. The argument is that since God has given us the life and the body, these greater things, we may trust him to give also the smaller things, the food to sustain life and the raiment with which to clothe the body.

Here we have a principle capable of universal application. Live out your manhood; live out your womanhood. Do the things you were made to do. Seek your self-realization on the highest level. You will not give up sowing and reaping—you are not meant to be reaved. You will labor six days wisely and usefully, doing all your work. You will rest and aspire one day in seven. And when you thus live, intelligently and conscientiously bringing your lives personally and socially into harmony with the purpose of God for them, you may live without fear or worry.

You may live in the assurance that in the great abiding order which enfolds you, you, too, will be fed and clothed. You will indeed be fed with that bread which comes down from above, and be clothed with that righteousness which is the fine linen of the saints. Seek first the Kingdom of God and all things will be added! (Charles R. Brown).

"Aspirin" Trade Mark Sustained

A warning is found in the judgment just given by the Exchequer Court of Canada at Ottawa, in an action brought by The Bayer Company, Limited, owner of the trade mark "Aspirin". The action asked a judgment of the court restraining the defendant from infringing the trade mark by selling tablets as "Aspirin" which were not the product of The Bayer Company. The judgment restrains the defendant permanently from putting out any of his own tablets as "Aspirin" or under any name so similar to "Aspirin" as to be confusing and awards The Bayer Company damages and costs.

Moscow Scientists Seek Information As To Sky's Light

The safe landing of a sub-stratosphere balloon which carried two Soviet scientists on a flight to determine whether the sky has its own light, independent of the sun, was reported in despatches from the Vladimir district of Moscow province.

The scientists, who claimed to have reached an altitude of 10,000 metres (about 32,808 feet), were I. A. Khvostikov, of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, and B. I. Romanoff, of the state optical institute. They obtained 150 spectrograms.

New York Enjoyed Exhibits

Canada's Outdoors Taken To National Sportsman's Show

Mid-town New Yorkers, used to the fumes of gasoline exhaust, and traditionally aghast whenever they realize pure air is about, paused recently amid the fragrant odor of cedar and balsam in the Grand Central zone.

Canada and the great outdoors had come to New York and settled in Grand Central Palace where, at the national sportsman's show, the nostalgic, or merely curious, wandered in replicas of Nova Scotia or Maine forests.

Every day fly casting, log rolling, canoe tilting and other sports of the outdoors vied with taxi dodging, subway swaying and other pastimes of the Gothamite.

A tank occupying 2,800 square feet of floor space accommodated the casters and rollers. Presiding over the sports was Needahbee, full-blooded Penobscot Indian from Oldtown, Me.

Canadian provinces had exhibits of animals ranging from three inch chipmunks to 1,800 pound moose.

Amused The Farmers

A story in the London News-Chronicle says in a flight of rhetoric Randolph Churchill referred to a heifer as a "little brother." His audience of farmers in Dingwall marked place rocked with laughter. It was not until it was explained to Mr. Churchill that a heifer could only be a "little sister" that he appreciated the "joke."

SOCIAL CREDIT DILEMMA

Alberta's William Aberhart, "Bible Bill" he is labelled by an American journal, is definitely on the spot in regard to his social credit plans. With impatience over delaying of the dividends apparent, the plan was scheduled to be introduced last week in the legislature. However, it was indefinitely postponed, and the whole of the involved matter still more involved, when Major C. H. Douglas, the daddy of all social credit plans, very ingeniously declined to put his theories to the test.

Aberhart wants the Major to reconsider, but if he won't, plans to engage the services of some other expert. As a last resort, he will undertake the job himself.

The premier's followers were advised by him to trust in God and keep their powder dry. He went on to explain that by keeping powder dry he meant "don't talk too much." Probably Mr. Aberhart wishes that he had followed his own advice before and just after election time.—Financial Post.

BREAD CONCEALS 60 TAXES

There are sixty taxes hidden in a loaf of bread. Of this number ten are direct taxes paid by bread companies. These are municipal business tax, property, provincial corporation, provincial income, federal income, gas tax, motor license fees, excise tax on sugar, sales tax on shortening and printing. Manufacturers of bread ingredients pay taxes concealed in the price of flour, milk, powdered sugar, salt, shortening, malt and yeast. These manufacturers pay the same taxes also as the bread companies. Bread contributes to the payment of taxes by railways, elevators, etc. The farmer who grows the wheat pays property tax. Actually 60 taxes in a conservative estimate, including only major items. One might include tax on farm machinery, steel, coal, iron ore and all contributory operations. All these eventually show up in the price of bread and are passed on till they eventually reach the consumer.

RELATIVITY

"I tell you how it is," said the snuff-looking young man as he finished his beer. "I met a young widow, with a grown-up daughter, and I married that widow."

"Then my father met our stepdaughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my stepdaughter my stepmother, and my father became my stepson. See?"

"Then my stepmother, the stepdaughter of my wife, had a son. That boy was, of course, my brother, because he was my father's son, but he was also the son of my wife's stepdaughter and therefore her grandson. That made me grandfather to my stepbrother. Then my wife had a son."

"My mother-in-law, the sister of my son, was also his grandmother, because he is her stepmother's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his stepfather is his wife. I am the brother of my own son, who is also the child of my stepmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law, my wife is her own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew and I am my own grandfather and I can't stand it."

Oh to be a citizen of British Columbia! They really think it's possible to give a dividend of $49 a month out there—and probably also would promise to do that without increasing taxation. If the twenty-five bucks don't show up soon in Alberta, watch Albertans go!

"While the financial world has a large investment in Alberta, about $200,000,000 all told, it is only a drop in the bucket to what the financial interests would lose if Social Credit were to get under way successfully and begin to be adopted generally," J. Albertans who have staked their all in the Province, who have helped through 30 years to build up the Province and who had hoped that we could at last join with the rest of Canada on a return to more normal conditions, are much bewildered by this week's events. 23rd PSALM IN SCOTCH

The Lord is my shepherd; in nocht am I wantin'.
In the houghs o' greengrass does He mak' me lie down;
While many puir straigers are bleatin' and pantin',
By saft flowing burnies He leads me at noon.

When since I had strayed far awa' in the bracken,
And daidled till gloamin' cam' ower a' the hills,
Nae dribble o' water my sair drouth tae slacken,
And dark grow'd the nicht wi' it's haar and it's chill.

Awa' frae the fauld, strayin' fitsoore and weary,
I thocht I had naething to dae but tae dee.
He socht me and fand me, in mountain hichts dreary;
He gangs by fell paths which he kens best for me.

And noo for His namesake, I'm dune wi' a' fearin',
Though cluds may aft gath'er an' soughin' winds blow;
Hoo this? or hoo that?—Oh prevent me frae speirin';
His will is aye best, and I daurna sae na.

The valley o' death winna fleg me tae thread it,
Though awfu' the darkness I weel can forsee;

Wi' His rod and His staff, He will help me tae tread it,
An' then will it's shadows, sae gruesome, a' flee.

Forfokken in praise o' foes that surround me,
My shepherd a' table wi' denties has spread,
The thyme and the myrtle blaw fragrant around me,
He brims a fu' cup and pours oil on my head.

Surely guidness and mercy despite a' my roamin',
Will gang wi' me doon tae the brink o' the river;
Ayont it, nae mair o' the eerie and gloamin',
I will bide in the hame o' my Father forever.

The grave of a Chinaman who was buried 103 years ago, was recently opened up. It was found that less than half of the opium, tobacco, matches, rice, etc., that had been buried with him, was still unaccounted and intact, and in a fairly good state of preservation. A Chinese bible was opened up to that section which refers to the Beatitudes. The "Chinese" whiskey bottle was found empty.

To say that the newspapers are against codes because they try to present both sides of the question is as true as to say that the newspapers or anybody else are against the idea which actuates those who wish to distribute $25 a month under the Social Credit plan. If Social Credit dividends can be paid, if codes will do away with evils in the business world, the newspapers will be for them along with every last man, woman and child in Canada. If, however, in trying to put these things into effect the last result would be worse than the first, and if the newspapers would fail in their duty to the public. Matters so vitally affecting the lives of the people should not be decided in an off-hand manner and without all the facts being brought to light.—Lethbridge Herald.

HOW TO TACKLE A HARD JOB

Somebody said that it couldn't be done.
But he with a chuckle replied:
"Maybe it couldn't, but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he tried."

So he buckled right in, with a trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried, he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing.
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that—
At least no one ever has done it."
But he took off his coat and took off his hat,
And the first thing he knew he'd begun it.

With a lift of his chin and another big grin,
Without any doubting about it,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done;
There are thousands to prophesy failure.
There are thousands to point out to you one by one
The dangers that wait to assail you;

But just buckle in with a bit of a grin;
Then take off your coat and go to it—
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done," and you'll do it.

LIVING OUR BEST

Let us work and be active till sunset,
Let us plant some more flowers in the path,
Their sweetness and beauty may linger
Long after the shadows have passed.

Let us sing a song sweetly and tender,
It might cause some sad soul to forget,
And give him the chance to remember
That Hope's steady flame flickers yet.

Let us trust, though the shadows may gather
And bolt out the clear shining blue;
For we know that our wise loving Father
Will still keep His Light shining through.

Let us give ourselves, freely and wholly,
Our talent and all we possess,
That through us a lost world might see closely
The great need for living their best.

In a Way!

In a way of speaking, the buying public owns every retail store in our town. It pays the rents and the salaries and all the other costs of all stores in our town. It informs the owners of these stores what to buy and at what price to sell. And it demands from all retailers a communication service—meaning news of what retailers have in stock, and what their prices are. And of course it does most of its business with those retailers who report to it regularly and fully—the agency of advertisements in our newspaper. And if any retailer says—in effect—"I'll not give you—the real owners of my business—any information about my business," then the buying public says—in effect—"Right you are! As for us, we shall go in largest numbers to those retailers who communicate to us regularly and adequately via the medium of our local newspaper."

This way of putting it is not just fanciful. It is stern fact. Retailers who decline to maintain communication with the public via means of the newspaper which it reads lose business to those who are faithfully communicative.

Some retail business is languishing today—unnecessarily. Its attitude to the public is wrong. It says—in effect—to the public, "You come and find us," and the public's attitude is: "You tell us about your business and your merchandise. You are our employee. Report to use regularly and adequately on how you are serving us. If you convince us that you are our faithful and efficient servant, we'll keep on employing you, and will pay you well."

The way of making a business grow and making it healthy is as plain as is the nose on one's face. It is the way of maintaining a steady communication relationship with one's employers—via the one effective and economical agency—our advertising columns.

SCOTLAND YET!

"Here's the tea; what's like us?" Scots may be pardoned if they do a little crowing at the present time, since, with the appointment of Commander Cochrane as Governor-General of Burma, practically all our overseas dominions will be presided over by men from north of the Tweed.

Commander Cochrane's job will be to inaugurate the new constitution granted to Burma under the Government of India Act, which Lord Linlithgow will launch as incoming Viceroy.

These two will have close neighbors in Sir John Anderson, at Calcutta, and Lord Erskine, at Madras.

In Palestine the pro-consul is another Scot, Sir Arthur Wauchop; while the present Governor-General of Australia is Lord Gowrie.

And, last but not least, John Buchan, as Lord Tweedsmuir, as I wrote last Sunday, is already doing big things in Canada.—Ex.

PHONOGRAPH AND SPEEDY DRIVERS

Among the reported new inventions is one called the Oral Speedometer, which operates with a phonograph attachment. It has the following to say as the driver's speed increases:

At 30 m.p.h.: "Too fast for city driving. We hope you're in the country."

At 45 m.p.h.: "Your car is still under control, but watch the car behind the car ahead of you. Have you had your brakes tested recently?"

At 50 m.p.h.: "Your responsibility is increasing. Keep your eyes on the road."

At 60 m.p.h.: "Are your insurance premiums paid to date?"

At 70 m.p.h.: "You drive. This attachment will do the praying."

At 80 m.p.h.: "Someone will probably have this car repaired. If so, we thank you for the sale of a new speedometer to replace this one which in a few moments is going to hell along with you."

Success comes in cans, failures in "can'ts."

TROOPS WILL NOT LEAVE RHINELAND STATES HITLER

Karlsruhe, Germany.—Adolf Hitler, wildly cheered by an election meeting of 60,000 persons, proclaimed that "nothing will move us to renounce" Nazi sovereignty in the Rhineland and Poland, that Czechoslovakia and Poland, that armed German forces will not move against them.

In a campaign speech loaded with appeals for "common sense statesmanship" he criticized sharply what he called Soviet interference with the tranquility of other nations.

The reichsfuehrer reaffirmed his overtures for a new European peace pact, characterizing his offer as the "most magnanimous ever made anywhere."

His denunciation of Russia was based on a double criticism of Soviet policy, extending even to what he declared was an "international movement to prevent the nations from coming to the Olympics."

His plea for peace, historically founded on relationships between Poland and Germany, went back to his denunciation of the Locarno treaty and his offer to negotiate for new affirmations of peace in Europe.

Hitler's words were broken time after time by loud salvos of applause from his listeners. He interrupted his own words once with a fit of racking coughs after he had become hoarse in a declaration of German progress against unemployment.

He said Germany had originally subscribed to the Locarno pact "for the sake of international understanding" even though the agreement "made it necessary for 14,700,000 Germans to remain unarmed."

Approximate population of the German Rhineland to which the fuhrer was referring, is 14,700,000.

France Looks To Allies

Sizes Up Strength Of Army At Her Disposal

Paris.—France, dropping official hints that she might prefer a "preventive war" with Nazi Germany now to "carnage" later, hastened to cement a chain of military alliances which would place a potential army of 40,000,000 men at her disposal.

A possible allied army of that magnitude was disclosed in new, if unofficial, figures to be based on an alliance of France, Soviet Russia, the Little Entente and Poland, and to embrace:

- 1—For 48-hour mobilization: 8,000,000 men.
- 2—Additional trained reserves: 31,000,000 men.
- 3—Eight thousand aeroplanes.
- 4—A million tons of warships.

The first category of the "paper army" troops which could be mobilized within 48 hours, was reckoned approximately thus: France, 1,000,000 men; Russia, 3,000,000; Poland, 1,000,000; Rumania, 1,000,000; Yugoslavia, 1,700,000; Czechoslovakia, 1,000,000.

In the second category were placed these trained reserves: France, 2,000,000; Russia, 17,000,000; Poland, 7,000,000; Rumania, 1,000,000; Yugoslavia, 1,700,000; Czechoslovakia, 600,000 and Rumania, 600,000.

Ottawa Renews Loans

Accepts 1937 Treasury Bills From Saskatchewan As Security

Ottawa.—Renewal for one year of loans to the province of Saskatchewan amounting to $1,024,218 is provided for in orders-in-council passed by the government and tabled in the House of Commons.

The loans matured in January and February and were secured by treasury bills of the province. The Dominion government has not only renewed the loans but has incorporated in the renewals the matured interest totalling $47,390. Treasury bills maturing in 1937 have been accepted as security.

Large, of the firm of Stephenson and Large, of Birkenhead and London, buyers of Canadian cattle, said, on their return from a Dominion tour as far west as Saskatoon.

Western Barley Too Weedy

Must Be Cleared To Become Popular As Feed

Toronto.—Western feed barley will never achieve popularity in the east until such extraneous matter as weed seeds is removed in the cleaning process, the national barley committee was told by Prof. E. W. Crampton, professor of animal nutrition at Macdonald College, Quebec.

"As available commercially, the feed grades of western barley are penalized in feeding value and in popularity in eastern Canada because of the quantities of weed seeds and other extraneous matter of low or questionable nutritional value," he said.

"Until some marked improvement in feeding grades of barley by way of a reduction in the amounts of these adulterants is effected, it is questionable if this feed will be widely used in eastern Canada." With the available modern machinery for weed cleaning, it would not be difficult to remove the weed seeds, he asserted.

Lew Hutchinson of Duhamel, Alta., a practical farmer and member of the Alberta wheat pool, dealt with barley. What the producer most required, he maintained, was a barley that would yield early, have a good stiff straw and prove profitable to the farmer.

Referring to the problem of weeds in western barley, Mr. Hutchinson said the solution lay in better farming and in cleaning the grain on the farm. The farmer must be shown, he said, that he could make as much out of barley as he could out of wheat.

Program Should Be Uniform

Social Legislation For All Canada Urged In Nova Scotia House

Halifax.—In a surprise move that left the Nova Scotia legislature in a flurry of excitement at adjournment, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, Conservative opposition leader, proposed a program of social legislation for the Dominion to be obtained through amendment of the British North America Act.

Col. Harrington, who recently resigned the chairmanship of Canada's employment and social insurance commission, declared that instead of tampering with a general procedure for amending the Canadian constitution, the province should agree to a specific amendment through Westminster if one is required to permit the Dominion government to engage in and at once set up the machinery necessary for such a full social program.

Suggesting maternity benefits, unemployment insurance, health insurance, accident insurance, widows' pensions, old age pensions and invalidity benefits, he said that the Dominion government should adopt a complete program and have it uniform throughout Canada.

More Deaths Among Veterans

Government Approves $60,000 Grant To Last Post Fund

Ottawa.—Deaths among war veterans are rapidly increasing in number, Hon. C. G. Fower, minister of pensions and national health, told the House of Commons as it approved a grant of $60,000 to the Last Post Fund.

The minister said the fund was established in 1921 to provide burial for indigent ex-service men and the number of men buried with the fund's resources had steadily increased since then. In the fiscal year 1921-22 the number was 83 and in 1934-35 the number had risen to 606. Indications were it was still far from reaching its peak as the veterans were getting older.

More Butter Produced

Output 11.5 Per Cent. Higher Than February 1935

Ottawa.—The output of creamery butter amounted to 7,894,597 pounds, a gain of 812,715 pounds or 11.5 per cent, over February, 1935, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. Production in western provinces with previous year's figures in brackets: Manitoba, 986,581 (755,677); Saskatchewan, 906,792 (789,494); British Columbia, 512,367 (360,822).

Divided On Rhine Move

Report Says Some Members Of Reich Are Opposed

Berlin.—Usually well-informed sources indicated that certain members of the German government had opposed immediate remilitarization of the Rhineland.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, minister of economics, Baron Von Neurath, foreign minister, and Gen. Werner Von Blomberg, minister of war, were said to have been in this group.

According to the same source, Dr. Schacht favored negotiations with the other Locarno signatories in an effort to alter existing guarantees and supply others to take their place. Gen. Von Blomberg was said to have contended the army was not strong enough to assume the responsibilities arising from reoccupation of the Rhineland.

BRITISH HOUSE HAS APPROVED DEFENCE PLANS

London.—The government's plans to build up Britain's defences were endorsed by the House of Commons at the conclusion of a debate overshadowed by the situation in Europe arising out of Germany's latest denunciation of the Versailles treaty and her abrogation of the Locarno pact.

A motion approving the white paper on defences tabled in the commons a short time ago was carried by a vote of 371 to 153 after a Labor amendment had been defeated, 378 to 155. The amendment condemned the government for its failure to include any provision for joint disarmament in the white paper, which called for extensive rearmament.

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, said recent events confirmed the statements in the white paper that the situation would change periodically and that the defence plans would have to be revised accordingly.

"Collective security has not yet reached the point where national policy no longer needs consideration," he warned in concluding the debate for the government.

Winston Churchill, who has held numerous cabinet posts in former administrations, and other speakers warned of the situation created by Germany's rearmament. Churchill said Germany faced a choice between internal and external catastrophe and he feared she would choose the latter.

Sir Roger Keyes, admiral of the fleet, suggested Churchill's name as the minister who will be charged with the co-ordination of Britain's defence services. He said it was important to have for that post a statesman of wide experience, vision and determination.

"One of the provisions included in the white paper on rearmament was the appointment of a minister whose task it would be to co-ordinate the work of the army, the navy and the air force. When the white paper was tabled, Prime Minister Baldwin said the minister would be named 'soon.'"

Herbert Morrison, former Labor cabinet minister, concluded the defence for the Labor opposition. He said his party was united in condemning practically the whole of the government's foreign policy.

"The government is using the phrase 'collective security' as a cloak for the old, unilateral, competitive armaments on a large scale," he asserted.

Work On Railways

Many Unemployed May Start Work By April First

Ottawa.—Prospects of an early spring break-up have led officials of the government to hope the first of 10,000 unemployed to be placed on railway maintenance work will be absorbed as early as April 1 in British Columbia, with a later starting date in the midwest and western provinces.

In accordance with the announcement of Labor Minister Rogers some time ago, those cared for in camps maintained for single, homeless unemployed, will be put to work on railway maintenance under an arrangement with the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

It is understood the railways will each spend $1,500,000 for this purpose and the federal government $3,000,000, making a $6,000,000 maintenance program which should occupy the normal relief camp population throughout the summer.

Another Sabotage Case

British Admiralty Believes Epidemic To Work Of Cranks

London.—Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the admiralty, disclosed another case of suspected sabotage in the British navy to the House of Commons.

The latest case, he said, occurred in a private dockyard carrying out admiralty work.

Six cases of sabotage already had been announced. Lord Stanley said the damage was slight although potentially serious. Admiralty officials said they believed the epidemic of sabotage was the work of cranks rather than foreigners.

Was Fearless Leader

Royal Canadian Navy Officers Pay Tribute To Earl Beatty

Ottawa.—Officers of the Royal Canadian Navy voiced deep sorrow at the death of Admiral of the Fleet, Earl Beatty. Many paid tribute to him as a commander who incorporated all the best traditions of the royal navy, an aggressive fighter and an efficient, fearless leader.

A large number of Canadian naval officers served with Beatty during the war, when he commanded the battle cruiser division of the grand fleet under the late Earl Jellicoe. Many of them were midshipmen at the time.

It was recalled that the battle of the Dogger Bank, fought Jan. 24, 1915, and which added great lustre to the name of the dead admiral, was opened by a ship which later became the senior unit of the Canadian navy, H.M.C.S. Aurora, long since dismantled.

The minister said that inspectors would also make other examinations in the north country where large numbers of visitors are expected.

ROYAL MESSAGE TAKEN TO MEAN KING MAY MARRY

London.—The possibility that Edward VIII, bachelor king of England, may marry was officially announced in the House of Commons in a message signed by the king.

The unmarried status of Edward, now 41, long has been one of the outstanding topics of conversation in the British empire and the world at large. As Prince of Wales, he was termed "the world's most eligible bachelor."

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, read a royal message to the assembled legislators in which Edward pointed out the necessity of revising the civil list—the amounts paid to the members of the royal family.

The message stated: "His Majesty desires that the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account so that, in the event, there should be a provision for her majesty the queen and the members of His Majesty's family, corresponding to the provisions which the commons have been willing to make in like circumstances in the past."

The Labor party member, William James Thorne, immediately rose with the question: "Does His Majesty give any assurance that he is going to get married?"

But Chamberlain did not answer. King Edward also requested the House of Commons to make "suitable provisions" for the Duke of York, heir presumptive to the throne, and, in certain events, for his family.

He said however, he would bear part of these expenses from the Duchy of Cornwall, the rich estate which for hundreds of years has been administered for the benefit of the Prince of Wales.

The message said: "It is, however, His Majesty's intention, as long as the revenues from the Duchy of Cornwall are vested in himself, to make that provision for His Royal Highness, the Duke of York, and insofar as those revenues are sufficient, to provide for His Majesty's privy purse."

There has been considerable speculation as to the disposition of the Duchy of Cornwall, the revenues of which traditionally go to the Prince of Wales—a title which now is not held.

Mr. Chamberlain announced that a special committee would be named next week to revise the civil list.

The king can marry without parliament's consent but, in order for his wife to be his consort also, she must be a princess of royal or noble blood.

The king could marry a commoner if he chose, but, if he did, the marriage would bemorganatic and their children would not be entitled to succeed to the throne.

As a matter of courtesy, King Edward probably would ask parliament's approval before he married.

HOUSE DISCUSSES DUTY ON FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

Ottawa.—Arbitrary duty valuations will be used to protect Canadian fruit and vegetable growers from unfair competition from the United States, Finance Minister Dunning assured the House of Commons when Conservatives criticized vegetable tariff reductions in the Canadian-American trade treaty.

Vegetable tariffs were discussed most of the afternoon when the treaty was considered in committee stage. Conservative Leader Bennett chided the Liberals on their use of dumping duties and claimed the finance minister's announcement was a vindication of actions taken by his administration.

On many vegetables, the treaty reduced the Canadian tariff from 30 to 15 per cent. Conservative members, most of them from Ontario protested against the reduction, claiming fruit and vegetable growers would be forced out of business.

Revenue Minister Halsey, whose department sets duty valuations, said the treaty gave the government ample power to protect Canadian producers.

Neither the finance nor the revenue minister "could announce when dumping duties would be applied or to what extent they would be applied," he said. "The government's judgment of the government would be exercised."

Two or three western Liberals protested against the height of the vegetable tariffs. They claimed it would increase prices on the prairies. Gordon Ross (Lib., Moose Jaw) urged regional tariffs with free importation for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta where fine vegetables were not grown in commercial quantities.

Sets Up Dictatorship

Paraguay Has Taken Germany And Italy As Models

Asuncion, Paraguay.—The provisional government of Paraguay, headed by Col. Rafael Franco, published a decree setting up the nation as a totalitarian state modelled after German national socialism and Italian fascism.

The decree declared the state and the "liberating revolution" of Feb. 17 as indivisible and banned for one year political, labor or other unions which "do not emanate explicitly from the state."

Paraguay, the government asserted, will be purged of "endemic, demagogic, industrial and sectarian evils."

"The official statement places in the 'liberating army' the highest source of authority and declares the successful revolution implies the 'same social totalitarian transformations as in contemporary Europe in the sense the liberating revolution of the state are already one and identical.'"

To Investigate Prices

Ottawa Will Check Up Increase On Farm Implements

Ottawa.—Arrangements were made by the agricultural committee of the House of Commons to investigate the increase in prices of farm implements put into effect this year by the Canadian manufacturers. The committee also went on record as being "of the opinion" the increases should not be put into effect until the committee had completed its probe.

When the Canadian-United States trade agreement came into effect reducing the duties on farm implements from United States from 25 to 12½ per cent, Canadian implement manufacturers increased their prices in their 1936 price lists. The action was debated in the commons and the question referred to the committee.

References To Tariff Board

Ottawa.—The minister of finance has made 83 references to the tariff board for inquiry since its inception, a return tabled in the House of Commons stated. Of this number 80 were made on applications from companies or persons in Canada, and 13 on applications from the government of the United Kingdom.
